Dear Rev. Lim,
Peng-an.

Thank you so much for remembering me again
this year.

Taiwan has meant so much to our family throughout the years. I am sending a few photos to share with the TCCNA Assembly.

This is my 51st year. I am blessed with family, friends, a caring and engaged church, and wonderful memories.

Prayers continue for the well being of the Taiwanese people, both in Taiwan and world-wide. Peace among nations and peoples and their cultures is needed.

Thank you for your continued kindness and goodwill.

By all means, stick to the apple-a-day routine. But our list of top physicians – the 163 best in Rhode Island, as voted by their peers – will help you take control of your health, whether you need a new family doctor or the best oncologist in the state.

Still, you can't plan for everything. That's why we ventured inside our medical community's ground zero: the emergency department. Learn about the doctor determined to expose the differences in emergency care between the sexes, then read a report from the overnight shift at Rhode Island Hospital, the region's only Level One Trauma Center.
